Lucas Greer

Assistant Research Professor

Lucas Greer is an assistant research professor at the Georgetown University Center on Education and the Workforce (CEW). He designs and conducts applied research focused on education, labor markets, and economic mobility.

Prior to joining CEW, Lucas was a senior researcher at the Strada Education Foundation and an assistant policy researcher at the RAND Corporation. His research has examined the labor-market returns to postsecondary credentials, education-to-workforce pipelines, the teacher workforce, and the geographic mobility of college-educated workers.

Lucas earned a BS in economics from Le Moyne College, an MA in economics from the University of Virginia, an MPA from The Ohio State University, and a PhD in policy analysis from the RAND School of Public Policy.

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
McCourt School of Public Policy
CENTER ON EDUCATION AND THE WORKFORCE

cew.georgetown.edu
CEW Contact cewgeorgetown@georgetown.edu